The categories of workforce information that we collect, process, hold and share include:

- personal information (such as name, employee or teacher number, national insurance number)
- special categories of data including characteristics information such as gender, age, ethnic group, photographs, biometric data
- contract information (such as start dates, hours worked, post, roles and salary information)
- work absence information (such as number of absences and reasons)
- relevant medical information
- qualifications (and, where relevant, subjects taught)
- previous employment history
- outcomes of checks on suitability for employment
- payroll information including bank details

Why we collect and use this information

We use workforce data to:

- enable us to maintain safe and secure workplaces
- enable the development of a comprehensive picture of the workforce and how it is deployed
- inform the development of recruitment and retention policies
- enable us to determine suitability for employment
- enable individuals to be paid
- enable ethnicity and disability monitoring.

The lawful basis on which we process this information

We process this information

- 1. Because it is necessary for the contracts we have with staff (and as described in Article 6 of the General Data Protection Regulation);
- 2. Because it is necessary for complying with our legal obligations (and as described in Article 6 of the General Data Protection Regulation);
- 3. Because processing of special category data is necessary for carrying out our legal obligations in the field of employment and under social protection law (as described in Article 9 of the General Data Protection Regulation).

4. Because some special category data we use with your consent (as described in Article 9 of the General Data Protection Regulation).

Collecting this information

Whilst the majority of information you provide to us is mandatory, some of it is provided to us on a voluntary basis. In order to comply with data protection legislation, we will inform you whether you are required to provide certain information to us or if you have a choice in this.

Storing this information

We hold workforce data for six years after the termination of employment, in line with the Limitation Act 1980, section 2.

Who we share this information with

We routinely share this information with:

- our local authority
- the Department for Education (DfE)
- our payroll provider

Why we share workforce information

We do not share information about workforce members with anyone without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

Local authority

We are required to share information about our workforce members with our local authority (LA) under section 5 of the Education (Supply of Information about the School Workforce) (England) Regulations 2007 and amendments.

Department for Education (DfE)

We share personal data with the Department for Education (DfE) on a statutory basis. This data sharing underpins workforce policy monitoring, evaluation, and links to school funding / expenditure and the assessment educational attainment.

We are required to share information about our pupils with the (DfE) under section 5 of the Education (Supply of Information about the School Workforce) (England) Regulations 2007 and amendments.

Data collection requirements

The DfE collects and processes personal data relating to those employed by schools (including Multi Academy Trusts) and local authorities that work in state funded schools (including all maintained schools, all academies and free schools and all special schools including Pupil Referral Units and Alternative Provision). All state funded schools are required to make a census submission because it is a statutory return under sections 113 and 114 of the Education Act 2005

To find out more about the data collection requirements placed on us by the Department for Education including the data that we share with them, go to https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools.

The department may share information about school employees with third parties who promote the education or well-being of children or the effective deployment of school staff in England by:

- conducting research or analysis
- producing statistics
- providing information, advice or guidance

The department has robust processes in place to ensure that the confidentiality of personal data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access to it and its use. Decisions on whether DfE releases personal data to third parties are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- who is requesting the data
- the purpose for which it is required
- the level and sensitivity of data requested; and
- the arrangements in place to securely store and handle the data

To be granted access to school workforce information, organisations must comply with its strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.

Requesting access to your personal data

Under data protection legislation, you have the right to request access to information about you that we hold. To make a request for your personal information, contact Charlotte Treglown at Great Academies Education Trust.

You also have the right to:

- object to processing of personal data that is likely to cause, or is causing, damage or distress
- prevent processing for the purpose of direct marketing
- object to decisions being taken by automated means
- in certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data rectified, blocked, erased or destroyed; and
- claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of the Data Protection regulations

Please note the Trust and its academies are happy to help people access their information in a timely manner, but may find it difficult to respond during the school summer holidays.

If you have a concern about the way we are collecting or using your personal data, we ask that you raise your concern with us in the first instance. If your concerns are not addressed to your satisfaction, you can contact the Information Commissioner's Office at
